Appeal against Texns:

An appeal against the amenzation of Texas, written by Steh M. Gates, and by Mesars.

Adames, Bottes, Stede, Calledon, Giddings, S. J.

Andrews, Borden, Chittenden, Matocks, Morgan, Howard, Birdeye, and Hall, members of Congress, has been harby published in the columns of the National Intelligence. The Emancipator sintes that of a hundred whig members of Congress to whom this document was sent for signature, but tweet besides Mr. Adams, signed their names. And yet the Whitp party profess to be the Anti-Texan party! Exception is taken issues of the newspapers, very justly we think, to its being addressed to the people of the free states. Adocument of national interest should be addressed to the people of the United States, The people of the South are just a much interest, and the donations of the friends' in the exclusion of Texas from the Union, while a slave territory, as are the prople of the free states. We have have no more patience with a northern party, than a southern sprity, nor do we believe that it was the intention of the friends that appeal to give countenance to such a sectional division of the Amer'can people, that we are too up to cellculate proposition.

Benevolence, Criminal.

Mr. Brooke informs us, that some time has ummer, Wm. Logan, a citizen of Ricilland co, fed a poor, hungry mau, flying from oppression. The Grand Jury of the consty indicated him, charging him with "feeding James Monroe, a neground black, owing service and labor to some person in Kenutcky whose name was unknown to the Grand Jury," and also, with "piloting" him. The case came on for trial at the late term of the contri in Richland, and was dismissed, though noting open court. This would have been to grave an offence to a people who deem it felony to feed the lungry. So the court infured by the Logan privately, thot the Black Law under which he was indicted, was unconstitutional. But, the worst in not told. "The church to which he be longs," says Mr. Brooke, "to silow its abhorence of the religion of Jesus, and rebuck him open forming his christian duty, voted him out of the eldership." We should hete know what church it was. However, it was no church at all, it was a synagogue of Stan.

The Wisdom of the Wisc.

The Wisdom of the Wise.

The Wisdom of the Wisc.

The democrats denounced the tariff of last Congress as oppressive and injurious. The whigs demanded a national hank as an exchange-regulator, and cond-monte the hanking law of the last legislature as calculated to cripple the hasiness operations of the country, and ruin our currency.

But according to the testimony of the newspers of both partness, business is steadily reviving; money is coming into the country, exchanges are regulating themselves, prices are rains; and the whole community is steadily recovering from its recoverses. The great secretof this is, thus in spiriof legislation, people are making more and spending less, so that their debts are in the process of gradual extinguishment. Now merkt before six months go by, the newspapers will be apt to unsay all they have suid. They will have the dear people suffering worfally, either from the banks, or for want of a higher one—the country will be in an aufful crisis, and it will be absolutely necessary to detect Mr. Clay, for the sake of having a National

Our agents on the Reserve inform us, that while the people have no money to give, they would gladly contribute of their substance, to releve our secire of methy, and endow it with the means for vigrous action.

BY WILLIAM LLOTD GARRISON.

Mr. Garrison's peetry is that of feeling: it seeks little nid from the imagmation. His habit is seeks little nid from the imagmation. His habit is to feel deeply, and speak strongly both in pross and postery. The characteristics of the little volume of his Poems and Sonnets, which Mr. Johnson of Boston has just issued, are nobleness of sentiment and strength of expression.

The following stanzas from his address to his finith-brn, must quicken the flow of the warm blood of any man, who has the alightest development of philogrogenitiveness.
